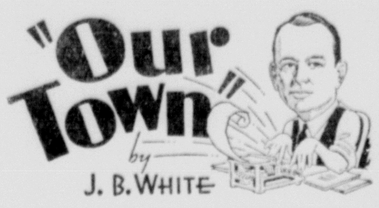
HILL CASE SENT BACK TO MILAM

"Our Town"

by J. B. WHITE



A feeling of sadness comes over the nation as Memorial Day is again observed, because of the passing of the men for whom this occasion was first created. The boy of 20 years of age, who was disharged from the Union or Confederate Army when the war between the states ended in 1865, if still living, is now an aged man of 91. Only a few of such are left. They can not be with us long. Nearly all their comrades have passed on to "Fame's eternal camping ground."

The deplorable quarrel that caused this terrible strife 75 years ago is forgotten now. If disputes arise between sections and groups of people, they arise out of new and different conditions. Memorial day has become the time for honoring the men who served in all our wars, and for teaching the duty of patriotism to the young who will soon be the governing force of the nation.

What can we do today to impart to the boys and girls that same fervent patriotic spirit that fired the people of past years?

The way to promote patriotism is to show the children that their country does more for them than is done for children anywhere else. Nowhere else has the government reached out so many helping hands to young people. As the veteran soldiers have so often told the pupils in the schools, the country is the great father of us all, which gives us opportunities for happiness known nowhere else in the world.

June is called the month of roses. The rose is called the queen of flowers. So this favorite month springs into ecstatic color, as millions of rose bushes and vines burst into bloom. Probably a vote would show the rose the most popular flower. Douglas encyclopedia of quotations gives about 53 roses, while the violets got 32, and the lilies only seven.

Wilberforce said that roses are the smiles of God's goodness, while Campbell struck a more sentimental note when he wrote that when love first came to earth, the spring spread rosebuds to receive him.

The blushing red of the rose seems appropriate to lovers, who feel they have advanced their cause with the fair one when they send her a box of those gorgeous flowers.

It's a fine thing to love beauty, but there is such a thing as loving it too violently. About this time you see people going out from cities into the country, breaking off great heaps of branches from flowering shrubs, and pulling up delicate blooming plants by the roots. They drag home these flowering masses, which wither in a few hours. Meanwhile the bushes and roadsides that were adorned by this color, became devastated and barren.

Flowering plants that were once the pride and glory of a state, have often been rooted out of all locations near any well traveled road. You have to visit remote spots to find any of these plants, if there are any left. Or the bushes and plants that bear these blooms may be crippled by frequest raiding so that they rarely bloom.

Don't let anybody tell you that advertising adds to the cost of goods. Advertising reduces costs. When goods are advertised, more of them can be sold. The cost of handling is not much greater than that of handling a small lot. Thus on a large and successful sale, the operating and overhead costs per article are small. But on a small and unsuccessful sale, the operating and overhead costs are large on each article.

The salespeople in a store keep drawing their pay, even if few people are coming in. The rent and other costs keep running on. Advertising gives a greater outflow of goods to divide up these costs.

DEEP TEST WEST OF CITY SPUDS SUNDAY

The big test well to the Edwards line on the farm of Dr. W. R. Newton, Jr., three and a half miles west of Cameron, will spud in Sunday afternoon, it was announced here Teusday afternoon by J. B. Kilgore of Waco who will supervise the drilling contract.

Acreage for this well was blocked by Jim Sampson and transferred to Kilgore and associates for drilling. David J. Crawford of Dallas worked out the details of the location, mapping the geology.

Mr. Kilgore believes that the Edwards lime will produce from this location. A well drilled in the Marak country a short distance away had a definite showing of oil.

Thus again the Cameron area has again come into the limelight and considerable attention attaches to this test.

HOHENSTEIN BLOCKS UP POSEY ACREAGE

Sam Hohenstein, geologist and oil scout, is in Cameron blocking acreage on the old Posey oil well area and will turn over his recommendations for a drilling contract with Oklahoma interests.

Mr. Hohenstein brought in the Minerva field and knows the oil game. He believes the Posey well was located too far east of the fault and proposes to locate somewhere west in the bend of Little River.

He has almost completed his geological maps. Acreage has been well blocked up for the proposed test and indications are that within a short time the structure will be drilled.

T. A. Howell Visits Son In Del Rio

T. A. Howell sends greetings from Del Rio. He is visiting his son, Jay D. Howell, who is with the Texas Highway Department and stationed in that border city.

He says he is having a wonderful time and at the moment the message was sent to the editor, he had just returned from Mexico. A post card scene shows the old store, law office and bar of Judge Roy Bean, law west of the Pecos. This old show place of the big bend is located at Langtry and was called "The Jersey Lilly."

Back of it is the romantic story of one of the bold spirits of the old west who tamed the bad men of the border legions.

The grounds for reversal were said to have been based upon what occurred in the jury room. Testimony was adduced in the application for a new trail in District Court here, and placed in the record.

CAPTAIN JANUARY

A famous story becomes Shirley Temple's greatest picture as the tiny dimpled Fox star returns in "Captain January," coming to the Cameron Theatre Sunday and Monday, May 31 and June 1.

Adapted from the beloved tale by Laura E. Richards, the new picture is a heart tugging drama of a lovable little girl and a sweet old sailor, set in a lighthouse on the Rocky coast of Maine.

How Guy Kibbee loves and protects this tiny waif he had picked up out of the sea years before, how he loses her to a vixenish old truant officer and eventually wins her back again is revealed in the fascinating plot of "Captain January."

Shirley performs a series of tinkling new steps, including a delightful novelty called the "Multiplication

Aged Confederate Is Buried Monday

Death claimed A. S. Moseley, 92, the last Civil War veteran in this city and the oldest citizen of Cameron on Saturday night, May 23, 1936, at 11 o'clock.

Death was due to his advanced age and a weak heart. He was confined to his home for two weeks.

Mr. Moseley will be greatly missed in this city, where he was a frequent visitor down town to sit and chat with many friends. He held the love and respect of both young and old.

This Southern gentleman of the fast diminishing ranks of Confederate soldiers, represented a link between the true South of the 60's, which made history, and the present South. His life was something to be cherished and loved.

Cameron had been the home of Mr. Moseley since 1903. He was born July 22, 1844 in Henry County Georgia, near White House. A few years later he moved to Mississippi with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Moseley. He was 17 years of age when the war broke out. His father wouldn't let him join the army during the first year, but so great was his desire to fight for the South that he ran away and joined in January, 1862. He was enlisted in Compapy G. 14th Mississippi, Independent Scout Cavalry. He was in the two seiges at Jackson, Mississippi, but the worst battle he was in was near the close of the war in the summer of '64 at Dalton. The battle lasted ninety days. He was in East Tennessee under Major Bob Graham when the war closed. During the war his parents died.

On his way home from the war he

CHARLES HACKEBEIL BURIED IN LAGRANGE

Funeral services for Charles Hackebeil, 61, of San Antonio, were conducted from the residence in San Antonio Wednesday afternoon. The body was then taken to LaGrange to the home of a brother-in-law, Gus Herzik, where short services were held. Interment was made at LaGrange.

Mr. Hackebeil was the father of Larry Hackebeil of Cameron and Charles Ernest Hackebeil of San Antonio. His widow, a brother and sister and his aged father at LaGrange also survive.

Mr. Hackebeil died on Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock at his home in San Antonio, after several months illness.

Mr. Hackebeil was born and reared in Fayette County. He began teaching school in that county at the age of 17 years. He was former Mayor of LaGrange and County Commissioner of Fayette county. At the time of his death, Mr. Hackebeil was managing a suburban grocery business in San Antonio.

COURT HERE MOVES TO PREVENT BREAKS

The Commissioners' Court met on Friday morning to discuss means to help prevent future jail breaks here. During the past fifteen months, there have been four jail breaks from the local jail, the most recent one being Wednesday night when two prisoners, Roy Price and Larry Mitchell escaped.

Immediate action was ordered on the following motions made and carread by the commissioners: To buy 6 bull cad locks and employ an expert to repair all cell locks, levers and bars in the entire jail equipment; that the jail be lighted inside and outside and that the lights burn all night; a room fixed on the bottom floor to receive visitors and the prisoners searched when taken back to their cells after seeing visitors; no visitors allowed on the second floor, only officers and prisoners; printing of four "no loitering and no parking on jail premises" signs, to be placed on the jail lot.

Success isn't a certain achievement, but any achievement that makes a man feel important.

The good citizen is always a partisan of the law until it tries to punish one of his friends.

Joe Lindle In Address at Banquet Tells About Helpful Influence of Scouting in Lives of Boys

Jae Lindle for eight years, Scoutmaster and leader of Troop 52, Boy Scouts of America, was one of the principal speakers at the Father and Son Banquet held Sunday night in Knights of Columbus Hall. The address of Mr. Lindle is as follows:

There are no words that could reveal the joy in my heart on this occasion. This father and Son Day honoring the Eighth Birthday of Troop 52 B. S. A. Eight years is a long time for anyone to devote his efforts to any cause without compensation, or without any outward sign of reward. But you dads, by your confidence shown in me, which confidence alone has been responsible for the years of continuous existence of the troop has been my reward, and the good fellowship of your boys and my boys, if I may say so, makes the heart swell with emotion. There is not much that I will bost for in these eight years. Anyone could have carried on. Perhaps some one could have accomplished more. The only claim I hope to make is that it would take any man eight years to beat the record.

Scouting is a game that leads to characther. Good citizenship, and responsibility, expressed in service to others. The Boy Scout who sincerely lives up to the Scout Oath and Law, certainly represents America's conception of the ideal boy.

The scout program helps the boy to be prepared for the responsibility ahead, to stand the test day by day. The same test our forefathers had in pioneer days gone by. The boy who practices his daily good turn and the oath and law in the street, home, the school room, and play ground is carrying on the traditions of our forefathers. To serve his country a boy must serve his God and his home, he must serve his community to serve his state. Even though he is a boy, he can be made to realize something of the force and power of the Athenian Oath—"We will transmit this, our city, not only, not less, but greater, better and more beautiful than it was before."

Dads, bear this in mind, Scouting does not supplant the home, the church or the school. We provide leisure time, activity to discipline the mind and the body of your boy. The heart and soul we leave to the home, and the church. No boy can be securely governed unless there be background of the discipline and morals in the home.

Boys of adolescent age are not the problem that some parents and leaders think they are. Boys are readily approached responsive and understandible. Parents must understand their boys and know the characteristics of growing boys. Trained leaders know that boys of 12 years or more do not like to be considered as mere children in a sense of the word, and because of the fact that they have not reached the age of manhood their peculiar needs must be taken into consideration..

The things that a boy desires from grown-ups, is appreciation, encouragement and understanding. Dads, you can study your boy, by the things he reads, the school work he likes, the kind of associates he likes best; his reaction toward others, his hobbies, and even the trinkets he carries in his pockets.

Dads, be a pal to your boys, take time to answer his many questions, find time to talk with him. Listen to his opinions, then show him hiserror. Teach him the things you want him to know. Find time to take him to ball games, get out in the woods and go fishing with them. Be more than a dad—be your boy's best chum. Then you may have no fear that you will be the first one he comes to for counsel, and guidance in his many problems.

"I am sorry for the fellow
That has never found his dad,
That never got acquainted
With the father that he had.

The boy that grew up lonely
With a father day by day,
Who never got to know him
In a friendly sort of way.

I am sorry for the youngster—
He has missed a lot of joy,
But I am sorrier for the father
Who never knew his boy."

JUST FOR FUN

By Neill

Looking Forward to 1936

Yesterday all the Seniors were anxious to know whether or not they were going to graduate. We were surprised to know that Woodrow Wilson, Wallace Dunham, and Woodrow Crawford were going to graduate. They went from class to class making that announcement.

Miss Bloebaum is planning to carry on the work of the "Yoemen Chant" in 1936-37.

Ruth Hobson, as most of you know, will become the sweetheart of the band. We are glad to know that her every-day hat still fits her head.

Milton Leech says that next year he hopes he will be able to help the freshmen get started in Yoe High. He is a little small to help initiate them.

We all thank Miss Pitts for the good jokes that she has told her English classes day by day.

We still look forward to the good rain that we will receive in 1937. We hope it is not so bad as it has been in the past few days.

The Seniors of 1936-37 are looking forward to Senior Day. We are going to have a good time throwing Billy Cooper, John Lane Baskin, and Chas. Sprott in the lake.

All the boys and girls of Yoe High hope that the teachers of next year forget about the detention hall.

Virginia Lindle will become pep squad leader next year, and we hope that she will be able to help the Yoemen win.

Mr. Fred Reno, manager of the Palace of Sweets, hopes that his loafers of next year are a little bit better than those of this year. He hopes the seniors of next year will not paint his sidewalk with black paint.

Most of the people who read this paper know that my jokes are getting sorrier all the time. That is the reason I did not have any jokes this week because I have run out of them. I hope that I will have some good ones next year.

CENTENIAL DANCE HONORS SENIORS

Mrs. Posey, one of the junior sponsors, and having charge of the Junior-Senior dance, prepared, with the help of committees consisting of Virginia Freeman, Frances Terry, Vivian Whites, Ruth Mode, Jessie Leigh Dinkins, Dorothy Welch, Ella Bess Haygood, Cuthrel Heath, James Brogdon, Marvin Hess, and Woodrow Lange, a dance which was perfect in every detail. Mrs. Posey deserves congratulations for her splendid work in preparing this dance. She spared not time and effort to make it a success, staying many evenings until seven o'clock, helping to make candy to be sold by the junior class to raise funds for the banquet and dance.

The Centennial theme was carried out in the decorations for the dance. Mrs. Posey made a trip to Houston and rented Texas Centennial flags especially for the occasion, and on the same trip she purchased the balloons which were strung across the ceiling. The walls were decorated with cow horns placed at intervals along the walls with streamers of the Senior colors, red, white and blue hanging from them. In the spaces of wall between the horns, saddles, bridles and blankets were hung. Even the chandeliers carried out the Centennial theme. They were wagon wheels suspended from the ceiling, with lanterns for lights. Cuthrel Heath made a perfect reproduction of the Alamo from cardboard boxes that James Brogdon and Ella Bess Haygood helped him gather and carry to the Country Club House, which was placed in front of the fire place. The door and windows were painted black so that it looked as if one might walk right into the old historical building. Virginia Freeman and Ruth Mode made a fine showing of their artistic ability by making a map of Texas covered with flowers, characteristic of the state, and at the location of Cameron on the map, a platform was made upon which stood a doll, portraying a senior fully dressed in the gray cap and gown.

The teachers present at the dance were: Mrs. A. N. Posey, Miss Joliy Blanche Pitts, C. N. Hicks, Miss La-Nelle Love, Miss Elizabeth Lanham, Miss Lucille Dickard, Miss Dallie Young, Mrs. W. T. Hefley, W. C. Wiese and E. A. Perrin.

The mothers who chaperoned the dance also served punch to those present and were as follows: Mrs. T. C. Whites, Mrs. George Mode, Mrs. John Ryan, Mrs. Bob Terry, Mrs. Horstmann, Mrs. Rush Thomas, Mrs. I. G. Triggs, Mrs. A. C. Freeman and Mrs. O. L. Kidd.

The fathers present were: H. H. Stedman, H. L. Heath and A. J. Triggs.

The special entertainment of the evening was afforded by little Sue Ann Baskin. She sang and tapped a "Wahoo." She was dressed in Centennial costume, a western cow-girl skirt and a shirt and ten gallon hat. She also tapped and jumped rope; the jumping rope was part of the dance routine and was indeed a difficult step. Sue Ann was introduced by Clinton Breeding, president of the 1936 Senior Class, who received a great big hug and kiss from the young lady.

Frank Hubert, a former student of Yoe High School, now a law student at Texas University, and his orchestra furnished the music for the dance and was enjoyed thoroughly.

Many students of Cameron who have attended other Junior-Senior dances at the club have said that this year's was the best that they ever attended, and those who were attend- a Junior-Senior entertainment for the first time said that they knew they never attended a better or more enjoyable one.

DRAMATIC CLUB ENJOYS FAREWELL PARTY

The Dramatic Club of Yoe High School had its last party of the year at the Palace of Sweets on Monday evening at seven o'clock. Because of the prevailing weather only a few were present. Those present were: Miss Alice Rylander, president; Miss Jolly Blanche Pitts, sponsor; Mrs. Posey, Dorothy Perkins, Mary Ellen Cottle, Ella Bess Haygood, Billie Marek, and Norma Jean McElwrath.

Ice cream sodas and vanilla wafers were served as refreshments. The napkins carried out the Centennial idea, having Texas Centennial written on them and a picture of a Texas Long Horn in the center. Miss Pitts and Mrs. Posey autographed each napkin by writing their names on the horns of the Long Horns. Mrs. Posey wrote her name on the left horn, and Miss Pitts wrote her name on the right horn. Each member present took their napkin as a souvenir.

Those present enjoyed the party thoroughly and were sorry that other members of the club could not be present.

The Gift that Grow With the Years

A Saving Account may not cost as much as some other gift you might give—you can start with a dollar—yet the value of the initial act of thrift is immesurable in dollars and cents.

Young people find it easy to save—if someone starts them, takes the first step. Then, as the years roll by, three developments become apparent: The real worth of your gift and the wisdom that prompted your choice, the sense of independence which comes with money in the bank, and the encouragement of the habit of thrift. Echoes From Ada Henderson

EDITORIAL

Farewell Ada Henderson School. For seven happy years we have been your students, but now that we have passed all your tests, we are ready to enter high school. Those seven years were the happiest ones of our lives and what seemed then to be dark moments are now thought of as ones of happiness and joy. It makes us sad to think that never again will those days come back. They are gone forever. Never again will we enter your friendly doors as pupils or hear the ringing of your bell. You mark the first milestones of our career, a milestone that will never be forgotten.

FAREWELL ADA HENDERSON

By Raymond Lesikar

Farewell to thee, Ada Hendreson school!
We no longer are subject to your just rule;
No longer will we study within your walls,
No longer as pupils will we walk in your halls.
Well we remember our first day in school,
The sad moments of being punished for breaking a rule.
But those sad moments now seem to be
Our happiest, most joyful ones to me.
We have borne your mild yoke for seven happy years,
But now we must part with the shedding of tears.

"CHARLIE CHAN AT THE CIRCUS"

A big top chief is found dead, a murderer trerorizes the ranks of the circus performers, and then the wily Chinese detective, Charlie Chan, is called upon to solve the most baffling mystery of his long career.

How Warner Oland, as Charlie Chan, tracks down the killer through a fascinating maze of clues at the risk of his own life is revealed in the Fox thriller, "Charlie Chan at the Circus," which comes to the Cameron Theatre Wednesday, June 3.

With the circus as the scene of the crime, Chan finds himself involved with a mass of clues. The dead owner, not having been on friendly terms with his performers, leaves all of the troupe open to suspicion, including the savage gorilla who was missing from his cage at the time of the crime.

When a poisonous cobra finds its way to Chan's room and almost puts an end to the wily detective's career he becomes convinced that the murderer is one of the troupe.

Chan, however, proves too clever for his adversaries, and escapes further attempts upon his life. The murderer returns to the scene of the crime to prevent one of the troupe from revealing his identity, and Chan cleverly baits him into a trap and brings to an end his reign of terror.

MRS. DOSSETT HONORED

Mrs. Stanton Dossett has been named National Committee Woman from Texas for the Young Democratic Clubs of the state.

The appointment was made at the recent Lubbock convention. Mr. Dossett has been prominent among Young Democrats of Texas.

Cameron citizens are justly proud of the civic attractiveenss the majority of yards of the city present.

Where nature has been let alone and you find various kinds of wild flowers, their natural hues blending so beautifully, even certain weeds and grasses of such attractiveness that one wonders how a spot can be so beautiful and yet never touched by human aid. It is then we say again "It is nature" and are reminded:

God made the wee flowers
With beauty so rare;
He gave the angels power
To guard them with care.

And every sweet moment
The wee flowers grow,
Their blood was a-foment
And tinting with hue,

Maturing in beauty
The wee flowers grew,
Attentive to duty—
A lesson to you.

Content by the wayside
In sweet virtues ways,
With God for their guide
They lived all their days.

Attentive to duty! Or should we say: Attentive to pleasure, to past time or to love? It is these and other things that prompt one to strive for attractive yards, for they make a home—a home.

These thoughts were brought about after seeing the Century plant blooming in the yard of the Rush Thomas home. In giving to the world its stately beauty, it also gives its life, for the plant dies as the bloom stalk grows and blooms.

The yard of John Watson has been so attractive with its mass of amarilis blooms and now the white lilies and holly hock. Their beauty beckons and we want to be near them.

One should not miss seeing the pansies in the yards of the R. D. Brown and James Watson homes.

Soon you will want to drive directly in front of the E. A. Flinn home when the Crepe Myrtle comes in bloom. The east yard is truly a garden spot.

Have you driven through the street east of the F. C. Fahrendorf home? And you did't stop to peek into the back yard? Well you should have for it is beautiful.

Then around the corner you ran into the gate entrance of the little iron fence around the place of Miss Rose Rischar. If you didn't follow that impulse, I am sure you wanted to, for its so inviting and the garden will soon be, for it is in the making.

Too numerous to mention are the beautiful and well kept yards in Cameron. The city deserves the added slogan: "The Attractive City," for truly it is "The Friendly City; The Attractive City."

ROBERT SMITH GIVEN BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Friday evening, May 22nd, the members of the Presbyterian Church Choir with a few invited guests honored Robert Smith with a birthday surprise party.

After the regular rehearsal, the Reverend O. C. Acrey stepped into the room and said he wished to see the members in the basement as he had a very serious matter to take up with the choir. Chairs had previously been arranged in a semi-circle, and when all were seated he took his station before them and with a serious voice requested that they remain very quiet for a few minutes as he had some condemning evidence he wished to bring before them and he hoped to save further embarassment that the guilty person would not recognize it.

Lights were flashed off and the Rev. Acrey entered with the beautifully decorated heartshape birthday cake lighted with 21 candles to the tune of "Happy Birthday to You," with Miss Dickard at the piano. The The guilty look on Robert's face proved beyond a doubt to all present to whom the cake would be presented. With one mighty puff, Robert succeeded in blowing out the candles. He was escorted to the kitchen where he graciously served each guest with a generous slice. Strawberry ice cream completed the plate.

The Gifts were next presented and opened. Robert is a man of few words but each word carries its point. His response consisted of seven words: "I shall never forget this. Thank you." The little crowd disbursed wishing Robert many, many happy returns of the day.

MUSICAL RECITAL

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Leo Wilkerson presented her pupils in a musical program held in the auditorium of the high school.

A more attractive meeting could not have been arranged than the one the stage presented with the two flags, the American flag and the flag of Texas, draped forming a background while about the stage was placed vases and floor baskets of seasonal flowers, the red lilies holding prominence.

The musical program "Musical sketches from Many Lands," written by Mrs. Wilkerson, depicting the dream of a little girl who disliked to practice, wondering how the children of the countries did, was presented by seventeen girls in costumes, giving musical numbers representative of Holland, China, Italy, Spain, Japan, also Pickaninny of the South, and Egyptian, in piano solos, duets, trios and quartettes.

The Spanish number was a solo accompanied by concealed string instruments.

Miss Elizabeth Joseph, dance instructor, dressed in a blue sailor suit with silver trimming gave numbers between acts.

A tribute to Texas was given by six girls dressed in postel shade evening dresses who sang: "The Eyes of Texas," and "Texas, Pride of the South." One in bluebonnet costume sang the Bluebonnet song af Texas. A reading "The American Flag," was very appropriate.

Miss Zora Clark Wilkerson gave a violin solo. Rose Tarno gave greetings and announcements.

The entire program presented a work of art and study, and was much enjoyed as was attested by the large number attending.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'doless.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." . . . Ballot On Trustee Status Ordered

Proponents of the ballot system of electing school trustees have obtained an election order calling for a referendum on Tuesday June 23.

School trustees for the city of Cameron are now appointed by the Mayor subject to confirmation by the council.

A petition was laid before the council on last Tuesday night and the election was ordered.

The petition was signed by more than 600 resident voters. C. E. Akers was named judge of the election.

The petition was presented by Mrs. Frank Monroe, Mrs. Owen Weems, Mrs. H. E. Garner and Mrs. M. G. Manning.

If the election carries favorably to the elective system, the present members of the Board of Trustees, seven in all, will automatically be put out of office. An election would then be called to elect members of the board.

The only thing that will be accomplished by the election on June 23 is to determine whether trustees will be elected by a vote of the people or appointed by the Mayor and City Council.

DOME

Some criminals even gloat over their crime record. Each new crime added to their list is something to stick out their chest over, so they think.

In a jail break here last Wednesday two prisoners, Larry Mitchell and Roy Price escaped. Price was caught and brought back to jail here but Mitchell is still at large.

Just before Mitchell escaped jail he wrote down the crimes that he had committed or taken part in. Perhaps he did not realize that this list would fall into the hands of the sheriff, or maybe he didn't care. Some of the crimes Mitchell listed checked with his record from Washington, but there were still other crimes listed by Mitchell the records from Washington did not show.

Washington records show that Mitchell was arrested first time in Fort Scott, Kansas, in July, 1929, under the name of Lois Mitchell, as a suspect for auto theft. Since that time he has been involved in cases of embezzlement, forgery, grand larceny of auto, grand larceny of second degree, fugitive an dfor drunkeness. His escapades were in the States of Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Idaho, Minnesota and Texas, under the names of Lois Mitchell, Marle Jay Ellis, Merle Ellis, Louis Mitchell, Loice J. Mitchell, Larry James Mitchell, Larry Jay Mitchell and Larry Mitchell.

While in jail here he listed his crimes as follows: Fort Scott, Kansas, car theft; Independence, Kansas, embezzlement; Springfield, Missouri, attempt murder; Allen Nebraska, grand larceny; Norfolk, Nebraska, forgery, car theft and highway robbery; Sioux City, Iowa, embezzelement, car theft and jail break; Kansas City, Missouri, car theft; Hortington, Nebraska, forgery.

Billy Gillis, a student of Schriener Institute, Kerrville, is expected home this week after the close of the term. Billy is the son of District Judge and Mrs. W. G. Gillis.

"Better meals as well as a more pleasant disposition has come from my menu planning", reports Mrs. James Terry, member of the San Gabriel Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Terry is planning her menu for four week periods, and with her pantry products the weekly grocery order amounts to a small amount. Meal planning eliminates the worry of wondering what to cook and if the needed foods were in the pantry for the next meal. The measuring stick for an adequate diet consists of serving daily: Milk (at least a pint for each child and quart for adults); three vegetables (a starchy, leafy, and other vegetables); two fruits (one raw and one citrus which may be tomatoes); one or two protein (meat, eggs, cheese, or dry beans and peas); one or two sweets; and one whole grain cereal. With a measuring stick like the above meal planning is easy says Mrs. Terry.

AD HALL 4-H CLUB

The Ad Hall 4-H girls met at the home of Bertha Marak, May 15, 1936. There were 12 members and 1 visitor present.

Care should be taken not to water tomato plants too mush. To water when plants begin to bloom seems to cause more suckers and weakens and delays fruitage, said Miss Bertha Fae Strange. If you irrigate plants too much when in bloom the plants will start to grow again and delays fruiting also. As a result of the morning's work the dresses were shown and seemed satisfactory.

Each girl gave a general report of the year's work she has done.

We are now working on different ways to raise money to send our delegates to Short Course.

The hostess was Miss Bertha Marak and Mrs. Frank Marek visitor.

AD HALL 4-H CLUB

The Ad Hall 4-H Club girls met at Burks, April 30. Most all members were present.

The roll was called and the minutes were read. The goals were checked also.

The meeting was then turned over to our sponsor, who gave a talk on control of insects and diseases.

The house should be well screened so that flies and other insects cannot enter. Flies, mosquitoes and other insects carry many harmful diseases. But they can be done away with easily. One way is to take Fly Flit and spray the house often. Another way is for protection against diseases is to go to the doctor early enough and keep the insects away that cause diseases. After the talk by our sponsor, the meeting was turned back to the president and the meeting closed. Our next meeting will be held with Bertha Marak May 15.

Speaks To Moulton Graduating Class

Father T. F. O'Sullivan of St. Michael's church in Burlington, by invitation, delivered the Baccalaureate sermon to graduates of the Moulton High School. The address follows:

"Members of the Grduating Class and Friends: Life is a huge school with an immense staff of teachers, countless pupils, and offering a most inviting curriculum. The classes have been going on continually from the beginning of the world and will not end till doomsday. There are no vacations. Nature, the great mother teacher of all, instructs in a thousand different ways. She engages animate and inanimate things to help her. The silent moon and the babbling brook, the towering mountain and the peaceful meadows, the majestic lion and the cheerful squirrel, the sweet scented rose and the light winged butterfly, the humming bee and the roaring sea, all speak or whisper or shout their lessons into our ears.

"Graduates today from our many schools and colleges are confronted as they go into the world with a great responsibility. The world always feels a profound need of leaders, never more than now. We hear so much today of the word 'Progress.' When we speak of progress our minds are naturally directed to the marvelous development in the control which man has obtained over the forces of nature. There is practically no limit to the fields of discovery. We have brought the ends of the world together in intimate contact; we delve into the recesses of the earth; we scorn the lofty mountain tops and the mighty oceans in our aeroplanes and airships. Like Alexander, we would fain regret that there are no more worlds to conquer. I ask you tonight does all this material progress lead mankind along the path that leads to its goal. Does it guarantee the happiness of society and give us assurance of the uplifting of the human race? Need I cover the pages of history for you to point the ruins of nations that sought the uplifting of human civilization in a material welfare? They followed the path of materialism, and of luxury, which eventually brought them to ruin. Man, we must remember, was made to labor. To suffer and endure is the lot of humanity. 'In the sweat of thy brow shalt thou eat thy bread,' is a decree from God: and no machinery shall blot out this decree of the Almighty. Hence, the very curse of modern progress is just this: that it has brought conditions which make it impossible for man to rejoice in his work.

"Then, too, we have in the world today a so-called philosophy of progress which casts aside all supernatural help and at the same time makes an effort to rise above the natural by purely natural means. This is the spirit of the age of progress in which you are called to live, and this is the philosophy that will confront you in magazine, newspaper, and speech. But let us inquire now: What is the standard of true worth and excellence for human life? This should be of vital interest to all graduates. There is a genuine progress both for the individual and society. This is indeed real progress; when the mind of man is fixed on lofty ideals, and the heart is filled with inspiration, with energy, and with love, and when, through disinterested self sacrifice, through generosity and mortification, through effort and virtue aided from on high, the soul conquers the obstacles of sense, of passion, and of sin, and tends toward God himself from whom it had its first beginning and for whom it is destined for its last end. This leads to hapiness for the individual and justice for society.

"There is no other progress.

"Democracy will not save men, intellectual progress will not save society; only the effort to fulfill and uphold the moral law will save society. Material progress is making man the slave of the machine and intellectual progress is making him foolish.

"What do we need? We need social justice, we need mental repose, we need reform in morals; in a word all our needs are summed up in one—the need of religion.

"Excellent and useful as is education in perfecting the mind and imparting to it power and influence, it would be incomplete if it did not perfect and strengthen the will. Knowledge is indeed power but it is the power for the good of the individual and society only when accompanied by a will thoroughly consolidated in virtue and morality. This was the teaching of the Father of our country who declared knowledge and virtue to be the two essential supports of our Republic. Going further, Washington affirmed and proved that virtue and morality cannot be sound and enduring without religion. Our Divine Savior Himself, the greatest teacher of all, gave the command to his Apostles and their successors to go 'teach all nations.' Education then, as the Latin word 'Educere,' means drawing something out. Instruction means putting something in. Therefore, I would say to the graduates tonight use your God given mind to think properly, and continue your education as you leave your Alma Mater tonight in developing your characters of manhood and womanhood. We greet you and congratulate you as the Centennial Class of Moulton. You are leaving this school in a year when all proud citizens of the Lone Star State are celebrating one hundred years of Texas history and progress. Texas needs men and women today gifted with intellectual capabilities. Your country today needs citizens of character and stability and for this reason we are looking to you and the thousands of other graduates throughout the country to be faithful and loyal to the principles of your forefathers.

"You are leaving tonight your high school days to continue in the school of life. Some of the chief reasons which you must learn in the school of life are that the soul is worth more than the body, that Justice and Charity are the foundations of the happiness of individuals and nations and that religion is not a cloak to be put on and taken off at will, but a stern reality of the relation between God and man, that Christ the Redeemer of the world, will also be its judge, that not suffering but sin is the greatest of all evils. God keeps his eye on us all through our career as scholars and teachers. The last day of our life will be the day of examination. Let us strive to graduate with honors from the school of life. The reward is more than a gold medal, it is the permission to sit in the school of God's own knowledge and love throughout the eternal years of the life to come."

Miss Margaret Bloebaum attended the graduation exercises in Elgin, also the senior banquet. She formerly taught school in Elgin.

Mr. and Mrs. Harleigh McGregor and baby of Dallas visited his mother Mrs. Gussie McGregor for the week end.

THREE GIRLS HELD IN CRASH THAT HURTS 2

Denson Barker, 36, of Gause and John Washington, 38, a negro, also of Gause are in the Cameron hospital with injuries sustained on Saturday at 1:30 a. m. when they were struck by a car while at work at the underpass at Gause.

Hazel and Roxie Riddle and Elizabeth Edmonds of Cameron were arrested by City Marshal Gene Smith and placed in jail here following the accident. Charges were filed against Hazel Riddle.

Barker has a broken right leg and the negro was injured about the head and body.

About seventy five men were working on the underpass Saturday morning, about fifteen men in the vicinity of Barker and the negro. The girls were driving a 1935 Ford V-8. It was reported that the girls drove their machine past the flag man, who was standing about 100 yards from where the men were working.

Barker said the car first struck the negro and then hit him. Barker was about 20 feet behind the negro. They were pushing wheelbarrows.

City Marshal Smith said that the girls did not have any brakes on the car which they were driving. The car. The car belonged to a man in Chriesman.

Leonard Farr, a foreman employed with the Thomas Ratliff Company which contracted building of the underpass brought the injured men to Cameron.

Damages to the car made it necessary for it to be pulled into Cameron.

Rev. Miller Smith of Maysfield held the morning service at the Methodist church on Sunday in the absence of Rev. J. Coy Williams who is ill.

Mrs. Winston Culpepper of Poplarville, Mississippi, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Lesovsky.

Mr. and Mrs. James Posey of Teague; Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Posey of Mexia visited in the home of Mr and Mrs. F. R Dunlap Sunday.

A CORRECTION

In the tabulation of Teacher's salaries published in last week's Herald, I showed the salary of Miss Jolly Blanche Pitts, Mr. Chas. N. Hicks and Mrs. Mary Lake H. Culpepper for the year 1934-35 as $1299.96.

As a matter of fact this was an error, for their salaries that year were $1462.05, $1368.00, and $1308.14, respectively, which was the same salary paid the previous year, 1933-34.

When the Board met for electing teachers in April for the year 1935-36, the salaries of these three teachers were fixed at $1299.96 for the year 1935-36 school year, but in July 1935 when all of the other teacher's salaries were raised, the salary of these three teachers was set at $1320.00.

This correction is gladly made.

Respectfully submitter,
E. A. PERRIN.

Now you can wear sheers ... Monday to Saturday!

YOU love sheer stockings and would wear them almost always, if they didn't seem so fragile. But here's Berkshire's CREPETWIST . . . silk that looks much sheerer, yet is firm and wears like something really sensible. The Berkshire patent twist for this silk makes it stronger, more elastic and much less likely to snag or pull. Try two pairs of CREPETWISTS and just see how well they wear! $1 a pair.

The San Gabriel Pirate Tales

MESSAGE OF APPRECIATION AND GOOD-BYE

Three years have passed since I began
To edit the Pirate Tales.
Three years of manuel labor,
But forever on the "rails."
From the first day of my position
Until the last reports I made,
I tried to do what should be done
And hope I have made the grade.

The cooperation of the teachers—
Not only one, but all
Should be considered firstly
Because I got the best,
When upon them I did call.
The staff members were next best,
In helping with my reports,
And of course I'll include all the rest
That worked and were such good sports.

The work for me was a pleasure;
The time I spent was long,
And that's one thing I'll always treasure
And go through life with a song.
So now to dear old S. G. H. S.
The grandest school to me,
Continue to keep your news in the papers
Forever and eternity.

Now I must go away
From school life to life's school—
I'll always remember the newspaper work
As the teacher that had her rules.
The hardest thing I ever attempted to do
Is to say good-bye to each and all
The ones I loved so true.

But due to many reasons,
That, I must do today
Please, in following seasons,
Remember your "graduate editor,"
Who from your school has gone away.

THANKS A LOT

We are again nearing the end of a school year which has had its pleasures and displeasures and has carried with it successes and partial successes.

Our "Pirate Tales" have been a review of our school life and school activities these past nine months and we hope that its readers have enjoyed them each week.

The school and the staff members especially thank the management of the Cameron Herald for the space given us this current school year. The courtesies shown in publishing our "Tales" and the complimentary copy of the paper each week has been greatly appreciated, and thoroughly enjoyed by the student body in particular.

As sponsor of the "Pirate Taes" I wish to express my appreciation to the loyal editor-in-chief, Irene Fulcher, who has been at all times willing and ready to work and whose untiring efforts have made "The Pirate Tales" possible each week.

And certainly in line to receive honorable credit for diligent newspaper work are Dorothy Worley, Adlyne Faulkner, an dSarah Jeannette Yeager. These staff members were "on the job" each week and never failed to get their respective articles. Lonzo Johnson was good with his sport articles during the sport seasons, and Edwin Isaac deserves credit for keeping the school informed about Vocational Agricultural activities.

The entire newspaper staff wish to thank all who helped us in any way and especially do we wish to thank Mr. Wood, Miss Gilchrist, Miss Johnson, Mrs. Culp and Miss Griffith for their help and support in giving us information concerning their respective fields. These teachers and officials were always very courteous and pleasant in working and cooperating with the newspaper staff.

Again, we say thanks to all. We have enjoyed our work, and we hope you have enjoyed its results.

Prisoner Retaken Following Escape

Roy Price, 20, charged with cattle theft and one of the prisoners who escaped jail here on Wednesday night was caught by Sheriff Max Kennedy. Deputy Sheriff Clarence McCall and Constable B. F. Bailey at the home of relatives of Price near Gause on Friday morning.

Sheriff Kennedy reported that while McCall and Bailey were making inquiries of the relatives as to the whereabouts of Price that he had come up through the field back of the barn and discovered Price asleep in a feed house. Price made no resistance.

The relatives reported to the officers that Price had eaten breakfast at their home about two hours before but had gone.

Price stated to Sheriff Kennedy that he did not know the whereabouts of Larry Mitchell, the other prisoner who escaped with him on Wednesday night. Price said that he and Mitchell parted when they struck the railroad about fifty feet from the jail. Price spent the night in the woods on Wednesday night and the following night slept under the home of his relatives on Friday a culvert near Milano and went to morning early.

Price, when questioned about the sawing of the bars on the night of escape, stated that the bars had been sawed before he was placed in the jail here more than a week ago, and that soap had been pushed into the sawed places, so that when the time came for escape that the pushing out of the bars would be all that was necessary.

Methodist Home Coming at Davilla Brings Together Many Former Residents Sunday

The Methodist Episcopal Church South of Davilla held a home coming Sunday, May 17.

Rev. Burke, pastor, assisted by members of his congregation had charge of the program.

At the 11 o'clock hour Rev. B. W. Skinner of Chilton preached. Twenty-three years ago as a local preacher in the early days of his ministry, he preached at Davilla.

Miss Maurine King of Bartlett rendered a vocal solo. Miss King is the great grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Laughlin and great great grand daughter of Rev. and Mrs. David Ross, pioneer Methodists of Davilla.

Mrs. J. D. Skinner of Temple was pianist for the day. Mrs. Skinenr is the grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kerr, early Methodist settlers of Davilla.

During the noon hour on old fashioned Methodist basket dinner was enjoyed at the church.

In the afternoon Mrs. Sara Kerr Culberson of San Antonio brought a most inspiring message.

The Methodist church in its early days was on a circuit known as Davilla circuit and again as Davilla and Salado Circuit. The circuit was part of Waco district, Northwest Texas Conference. Davilla was transferred to Marlin District Texas Conference.

Other churches on Davilla-Salado circuit were : Corn Hill, Sunshine, Allen's School House, San Andres, Lebenon, Oak Hill, Three Forks, Bethel, Live Oak, Mountain Home, Friendship, Oak Grove, Willis Creek, Prairie Dell, Val Verde, Pecan Grove, Norman's School House.

Early pastors were: Rev. R. J. Perry, Willis J. King, J. F. Hines, O. M. Addison, E. R. Barcus, H. H. Sullivan, J. S. Lane, H. M. Glass, E. A. Bailey, N. F. Law, J. F. Follin, Sam C. Vaughan, John R. Dunn. Early presiding elders were Revs. L. B. Whipple, John Carpenter, W. R. D. Stockton, V. G. Veal, O. Fisher, Thos. Sanford, J. Fred Cox, Geo. W. Graves.

The Server, Ross and McQuary families moved to Texas in 1852 from Mississippi and settled near Davilla. Rev. David Ross held the first Methodist services in Davilla preaching one Sunday to the whites and the next to the negroes. Whites and negroes attended each others services each Sunday. Services were held under brush arbors for whites at Davilla at Shrock Springs on Mills Creek and for the negroes on the Server place just west of Davilla.

Rev. Ross started the Methodist church with 9 white members and 2 colored members. "Uncle" Allan Server, a colored member retained his membership with the white folks as long as he lived. The white folks did not object to this but the colored folks did.

Rev. David Ross and Rev. J. E. Ferguson local elder of Three Forks held the first camp meeting in Davilla at Red Hollow Springs.

The present church building is the second for the congregation in Davilla. The lumber for it was hauled from Bryan. In 1871 the pastor from Davilla-Salado Circuit reported one church on circuit and it was at Davilla, valued at $150.00. The pastor also reported $1000.00 in hand for a $1000.00 in hand for a new 7church new church (the present one.)

In 1875 the Sunday School was reorganized as strictly a Methodist Sunday School. Milton Ragsdale was elected Sunday School superintendent.

Grandmother Sharp, who is not a Methodist, was present for the day. She told of the early days and folks of the Methodist church. She said that Sunday was one of the happiest days of her life and that she felt like shouting. Mrs. Sharp and her husband moved to Davilla in 1871. Mrs. Sharp will be 87 in July.

Some of the others who told about former days were Carroll Server, Tom McQuary, Miss Meta McQuary, R. B. Robinson, Rev. B. W. Skinner and Mrs. Burks.

An offering was given to help repair the Davilla church.

Martha Shrock was elected secretary of the meeting. Thirty-six relatives of the J. M. Laughlin family were present and several were present to represent the Kerr and Robinson families.

Folk were present from Davilla, Friendship, Temple, Cameron, Austin, Taylor, San Antonio, Bartlett and other places.

Some of the pioneer Methodist families of Davilla were Martin, Porter, McGuire, Robinson, Graves, Murrah, Stokes, Bange, Templeton, Ashford, Jones McQuary, Server, Ross, Jenkins, Shrock, Laughlin, Mills, Walker, Kerr and Mumford.

News From Hoyte

The Hoyte School had its final closing exercises last Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when Rev. O. C. Acrey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Cameron, conducted the Baccalaureate services for the seventh grade graduating class. Only five of the class were present, namely Charles Edward Woodum, John Howard Pressley, Pauline Pressley, Clyde Hensley, Jr., and George Goodwin. Mrs. Vaughn and Miss Lois Randolph, teachers of Hoyte School, related that they felt very proud of their pupil's progress this term.

Mrs. Vaughn has been in the school two years and Miss Randolph one year. They are both re-elected for next term, for which they are very thankful.

Trustees, patrons and teachers are working hard to make Hoyte a standard school. Among the many requirements for a standard school is the outstanding requirement that the pupils from the third grade through the seventh grade take the State Standard Tests at the end of the term. The tests were given and Mrs. Vaughn states that of the twenty-four pupils under her supervision from the fifth through the seventh grade who stood the tests, there were twelve A grades, ten B grades, one C grade and one D grade. Of the 12 pupils of the third an dfourth grades under Miss Randolph's supervision who stood the tests there were 8 B grades and 4 C grades. The above grades are not to be laughed at and the patrons and teachers feel very proud of them.

We, the school at Hoyte, wish to thank Mr. J. B. White, editor of the Cameron Herald, for being so kind as to send to us each week the Cameron Herald. We want to assure you that we read it with great pleasure each week.
